

Piotr Majkowski, Public Member (Appointed)

Mr. Majkowski is an instructor of nursing ethics and mental health practice at Douglas College, and sits on the board of REACH, a community health centre. As a nurse, Piotr has worked at Langley Memorial Hospital and at a Downtown East Side community health clinic. He has also worked previously in health policy with the World Health Organization and the BC Nurses' Union. Piotr holds a master's degree in public health from SFU, where he specialized in health inequities and work disability.